

Meet Rob Roy

Inspired by conversations with multi-millionaires on the golf course, Rob left his 13-year career as a PGA Golf Professional to enter the world of finance.

In the process of getting his securities licenses Rob discovered options. And, using an innovative approach to proven strategies, he achieved astonishing results trading his own account.

Then, when some of his wealthy Financial Planning clients said they wanted to follow along, Rob started sending out an email alert every time he made an option trade. And everybody was happy.

That is, Rob and his clients were happy... because they were making boat-loads of money.

But as time went on, Rob became increasingly bothered by the well-publicised fact that most traders don't make money.

Rob's career as a winning golf-pro had him rubbing elbows with many legendary greats, such as Arnold Palmer, Sam Snead, Jack Nicklaus, and Greg Norman.

Like Rob Roy Macgregor, the famous Scottish folk hero and ancestor after whom Rob was named, Rob felt compelled to help the down-trodden little guy.

One thing lead to another and before long Rob found himself traveling around the world as an independent contractor giving seminars on his unique approach to winning 9-out-of-10 trades and earning triple-digit returns nearing 200% year after year.

Now you too can reap the benefit of Rob Roy's unique approach to earning superstar profits... respected by mega-rich clients, trading professionals, and everyday men and women who, like you, have a burning desire for financial freedom.
